

Image: Andres Wanner

LISTENING IS DISRUPTIVE

Keynote speaker Hildegard Wester-kamp is a highly-accomplished composer, but she wants to discuss how the act of listening is an act of opening, of constant exploration.

Listen, and prepare to meet the unexpected. Find out more Here.

Image: Katsufumi Matsui

Image: Jo Tilo

Call The Depository
1-604-757-9718

The Depository is a place to deposit thoughts, to share stories & the sounds of your world

The Depository is social.
It is in no way affiliated with the police, fire department, social services, government or religion.
Recordings are available to the public. They are treated as anonymous, unless you identify yourself.
You will not reach a live person.

EDUCATION FORUM

HACK CLIMATE CHANGE

A two-day First Nations-led workshop uses human-powered and automated GPS devices to explore tidal changes and the history of human habitation in Vancouver.

More.

This year the Forum take place on the unceded territory of the Coast Salish People will discuss their perspectives on digital technologies in relation to their knowledge heritage, particularly based on personal and communal experience. In addition to traditional knowledge transfer, the Forum will open discussions on the impact of global and local paradigm shifts and blurred boundaries in our digital age, and how they may affect the transmission of knowledge across generations. More.

ART IN A VAULT

An abandoned fur-storage vault is home to a sound installation by Khan Lee and Holyhum, set to the key of the dry-cleaning machine. More.

